I am new to the forums but I have played around with Trillian a lot before I ever found any of the other solutions and it seemed to be the most feature complete and most actively developed solution. I also found that the VB6.5 version allowed my Outlook Express and Internet Explorer clients to see that the plugins were active so that they could still maintain their conversations in my channels. Anyway, I hope this helps someone out and I'd be happy to answer any questions. I would also recommend checking out this post which explains some of the problems with Trillian and VB6 and gives some great suggestions on alternatives. I have updated the VB6.5 plugin on the Trillian site and I am now offering it for free. You can download it from the Trillian plugin page. I have also posted the VB6.5 plugin here. I was able to get it to work in Outlook Express and in all Internet Explorer browsers. The service for windows.com worked with IE, but was reported missing in OE so I couldn't log in, and a message box popped up asking if I wanted to replace it with a different plugin. I can't tell if the VB6.5 plugin actually worked because IE and OE are still reporting that "Trillian plugin is missing" when I try to use it. I'm assuming there's a bug in my code, so I'm going to send the plugin back to Trillian and see if they can sort out my problem. I'll let you guys know when I hear back from them. Thanks for your help. Just wanted to let you guys know that I have been able to sort out the IE problem. It turned out that their registered version of the plugin was out of date and they were trying to use 77a5ca646e
